Thanksgiving

our holiday

At Alfalfa's, we believe in food.

We believe that food brings people closer together. Once a year, we set aside one day — one meal — for no other reason than to show our gratitude for friends, family, and of course, food. Thanksgiving is a unique American holiday. It does not celebrate a leader's birthday. It does not fall on the anniversary of a military victory. And it is not a religious holiday, but it is celebrated by people of all faiths. Everything stops on the last Thursday of November so that we can each gather with our friends and family to share a meal, to express our thanks. We, at Alfalfa's, can think of no better holiday.
